NE10 MEN’S GOLFER OF THE WEEK

Matt Paradis, Southern New Hampshire
Sophomore, Hooksett, N.H.

Paradis carded a 2-under 67 in the final round to push to the top of the leaderboard with a 3-under 135 for the tournament, and lead SNHU to a victory at the Penmen Fall Invitational on Monday and Tuesday. He beat out 80 other golfers on the strength of his tourney-high eight birdies.

NE10 WOMEN’S GOLFER OF THE WEEK

Camden Morrison, Franklin Pierce

Morrison helped lead the Ravens to a first-place finish at the Le Moyne Fall Invitational. She won her first individual title this year as she posted a 145 (+1) two round total. On Sunday, she recorded the lowest score of her collegiate career as she was four under at 68 (-4). Over the two days, Morrison tallied an eagle, 22 pars and led all players in par 5 scoring at 4.50, -5.

AROUND THE NE10

The 2017 NE10 Men’s and Women’s Golf Championships will take place this fall. The women’s will be on September 24-25 in Haverhill, Mass., while the men’s will be the following weekend in New London, N.H. Merrimack will serve as the host for the women’s, while Southern New Hampshire will be the host institution for the men’s.
Catherine French, Assumption (So., Dudley, Mass.)
French led the Hounds over the two-day Le Moyne Fall Invitational, but moved from 15th overall to tie for 6th after improving her score by seven strokes. She shot a 2-over 74 on the second day and a 155 (+11) overall for the event.

Cal Meyers, Bentley (Sr., Richfield, Wisc.)
Meyers tied for 10th in the Southern New Hampshire Penmen Invitational, posting a three-over 70-71-141 at the Hanover Country Club.

Krystal Knight, Merrimack (Jr., Groveland, Mass.)
For the third tournament in a row, Knight shot the lowest score among all Warriors, tying the program record for lowest single-round stroke total with a 2-under-par 70 on Sunday’s opening round. She concluded the tournament with a four-over-par 148 after firing a 78 on Monday, finishing three strokes back of the medalist. Knight, who now has three rounds lower than 72 this fall season, became the first student-athlete to fire a 70 since former Warrior Ali Reed ‘15 did so on Oct. 14, 2013.

Jessica Wagner, Merrimack (Sr., San Diego, Calif.)
Wagner was Merrimack’s second-best performer at the Le Moyne Invitational this week, posting a career-tying-performance; after an 81 on Sunday, the California native tied her single-round low with a two-over-par 74 on Monday, finishing in a tie for sixth place with a 11-over-par 155. Wagner’s last 74 score came at the Saint Rose Classic last April.
