Women’s 6,000-meter Race – 12 noon
For 32 years, the University Athletic Association has continued to serve as a bold statement of the vision of its founders — that the pursuit of academic and athletic excellence are complementary goals and can be achieved without the compromise of one by the other. The members of the UAA hold that the success of intercollegiate athletics is wholly dependent upon institutional integrity and the ability of institutions to complete the full integration of athletics into the academic fabric of higher education.

The second set of assumptions has to do with athletic excellence. Athletic excellence is not to be confused with a win-at-all-costs attitude. It properly relates to the caliber of experience offered to students who participate in intercollegiate athletics. Athletic teams should have the benefit of qualified coaching — capable individuals chosen for professional competence and commitment to putting the welfare of the student first. They should play and practice in first-rate facilities at reasonable times. Their equipment should be safe, of high quality, and conducive to the best performance possible. A consistent and challenging level of athletic competition should be provided to both women and men.

The theoretical . . .

Academic excellence and athletic excellence are not mutually exclusive.
The academic enterprise is the primary element.
Athletic excellence properly relates to the caliber of experience offered to students.
Athletic programs should reflect the quality of the academic environment within which they exist.
A consistent and challenging level of athletic competition should be provided for both women and men.

The actual . . .

In 2017-18, 31 student-athletes from UAA institutions were recognized as CoSIDA Academic All-America® honorees and 15 were named NCAA Postgraduate or Fulbright Scholars.

153 UAA student-athletes received All-America honors with 26 garnering individual/relay national championship or national Player of the Year accolades.

In 2017-18 NCAA championship competition, 15 UAA teams finished in the top five in their national championships, while another 27 finished in the top 20.

Many student-athletes from UAA institutions have been recognized for their achievements as scholars and athletes. During the 2017-18 academic year, 31 student-athletes from UAA institutions were recognized as CoSIDA Academic All-America® honorees, four of whom earned the prestigious NCAA Elite 90 award. 153 received All-America honors in team or individual sports, 11 garnered individual national championship event titles or national Player of the Year honors, and 15 won national titles in relays or doubles.

In addition, 15 student-athletes from UAA institutions were among the select group of seniors across the country named NCAA Postgraduate or Fulbright Scholars.

Teams throughout the UAA are perennial contenders for post-season play. In 2017-18, UAA teams earned the NCAA title in women’s swimming and diving, and reached the national championship final in women’s soccer and women’s tennis.

In all, 31 UAA teams posted top-10 finishes in their national championships, including 15 among the top-five, while 11 others finished in the top 20.

We believe that all student-athletes, coaches, and spectators should strive to represent the very best spirit and tradition of intercollegiate athletics. We request your cooperation by supporting the participants and officials in a positive manner.

Profanity; ethnic, racial, sexist, or homophobic comments; or other intimidating actions directed at officials, student-athletes, coaches, or team representatives will not be tolerated and are grounds for removal from the site of competition. Thank you.

Be Loud, Be Proud, Be Positive...

Cheer for your team, not against the opponents.

Don’t get personal in your comments about players, coaches or officials.

No profanity, vulgarity, racist, sexist, or homophobic comments.
