NE-10 Conference Player of the Week

Emily Miller, LIU Post
Sophomore, F - Bridgewater, N.J.
Miller tallied two goals and two assists for a six-point output in helping lead the Pioneers to a pair of wins last week. The sophomore scored a pair of goals and added an assist in a 3-0 win over No. 5 Stonehill on Saturday in her best game of the week. It’s the second time this season she’s been honored with this award from the league office.

NE-10 Conference Defensive Player of the Week

Chelsea Davis, American Int’l
Freshman, B - Boonton, N.J.
Davis was outstanding in all phases of the game for AIC as the Yellow Jackets went 2-0 against Franklin Pierce and SNHU. She put four shots on target in the two games, while leading a defense that allowed just seven, with no goals against. Against Southern New Hampshire, she also made a defensive save in overtime, knocking a rebound shot out of midair with her stick to save the game for AIC.

NE-10 Conference Goalkeeper of the Week

Taylor Ross, American International
Sophomore, GK - Stroudsburg, Pa.
Ross was brilliant in posting back-to-back shutouts, and AIC needed every one of her saves as they won twice in double OT, 1-0, over Franklin Pierce and Southern New Hampshire. She made all three of her saves against Franklin Pierce during the extra session. Two of her three saves against SNHU were also in overtime, including on a dangerous chance on a penalty corner.

NE-10 Conference Rookie of the Week

Hannah Friend, Saint Anselm
Freshman, F - North Easton, Mass.
Friend helped lead #8 Saint Anselm to a pair of wins this week. She picked up an assist on the game-winning goal of a 2-1 victory over SNHU, and followed that up with a hat-trick in a 4-0 victory over St. Thomas Aquinas on Saturday.
