DEAR SPARTAN FAMILY,

Once again, I am proud to provide you with the Department of Physical Education and Athletics Annual Report for the 2018-19 academic year. Our student athletes continue to shine in competition, the classroom, laboratories and their communities. As you will note in this report, numerous All-Academic accolades follow each season for our Spartans. As of this letter, we also have a student athlete in the running for the NCAA Woman of the Year, the highest honor bestowed on a female student athlete in the country.

With the help of our generous donors and university support, we continue to provide our students with a first class experience and facilities. The new M. Frank and Margaret Dormiter Rudy Athletic Endowment begins in full force this coming fall, providing all of our 500 student athletes with new Nike uniforms and shoes on an annual basis. We hope you will visit us at the Veale Center to view the wonderful display honoring his groundbreaking invention. Facility enhancements this year include the football locker room, new study area for students in the All-American Hallway, new curtains in Veale, new pits for all outdoor track events and renovations to the throwing fields in preparation for hosting the 2020 UAA Outdoor Track & Field Championship and a new roof on the natatorium.

The CWRU Day of Giving on June 11th, proved to be a record setting day. Generous donors helped us shatter the goal of 742 to an eye popping, 1097 donors raising over fifty five thousand dollars. Thank you for making this a remarkable day!

Over 60 student athlete leaders continue to learn beyond the lines by participating in the department’s leadership academy called ‘The Program”, meeting several times throughout the year to learn team leadership skills and gain leadership knowledge from guest speakers from the corporate world, human resources and education.

We hope you enjoy reviewing the best and brightest moments from the 2018-2019 Spartan Athletic year. Your support as a volunteer, sponsor, friend, alumni or parent is so appreciated by our entire department. On behalf of our students and staff, thank you for all you do for the Spartans!

Sincerely,

Amy Backus
Director of Athletics

MISSION STATEMENT (Revised January 2017)
The Department of Physical Education and Athletics seeks excellence for the diverse community of students, faculty, and staff of Case Western Reserve University by providing the professional and community resources and support necessary to develop and maximize opportunities for engagement, learning, and respectful competition at the highest level. The department offers a broad range of athletics activities, including varsity teams, club sports, intramurals, and physical education courses, which support the educational mission of this prestigious research university to improve and enrich lives through active, creative, and continuous learning.

FROM THE DIRECTOR: A STATE OF THE DEPARTMENT MESSAGE
The Department of Physical Education and Athletics is committed to serving all students in our programs from varsity, club, recreational, intramurals and physical education. Providing a challenging, quality athletic experience for students seeking a rigorous academic agenda is not a mutually exclusive endeavor. We currently support 19 varsity sports competing in the most competitive conference in Division III in the country, the University Athletic Association. This association is comprised of some of the top research universities in the country. Student athletes on the varsity level comprise almost 10% of the undergraduate population (470). The department currently recognizes 17 club sport programs serving over 500 students competing regionally and nationally as well as Intramural activities with 2,000 participants this past academic year. Physical education classes include courses ranging from yoga to basketball and rock climbing providing fitness and lifetime sport instruction. Included in the physical education department is a recognized minor in sports medicine. Our coaching faculty teaches over 3,900 students in the physical education program each year. Upcoming changes to the curriculum are in the process of being reviewed with a broader based wellness initiative to coincide with potential changes to the university's general education requirements.

Our goal is to continue to fundraise for important facility upgrades. These include Wyant Phase II, a multi-purpose practice facility on the north side, renovation of Adelbert Gymnasium to be the home court of men's and women's basketball, renovation to the Berry House for men's and women's tennis, and an artificial turf surface on Van Horn Field.

Strategies to increase financial contributions in the form of excellence campaigns, endowment creations, corporate sponsorships and stronger alumni affiliations will be important for creating a sustainable competitive advantage in the UAA and beyond. Our outreach efforts through social media outlets, with Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, including the department sponsored feeds helps to keep our supporters up to date. Each varsity sport and most club sports also have their own social media platforms helping to increase our exposure. Most varsity programs provide updates to friends lists through weekly emails and quarterly newsletters. Visits to our www.athletics.case.edu website are the second most visited sites trailing only behind www.case.edu, the main portal to the university.

We build winners and develop character through the many programs and services we offer students. Character development occurs organically from participation on a team where selfless devotion, sacrifice and time management skills come into play each day. Formally we address leadership skills in our student athlete advisory council (CASA), The Program; our student leadership academy, Sport Club Council, ROTC, student staff development and mentoring discussions with alumni as well as career networking.

A strong athletic program can help to galvanize a community, provide enthusiasm and pride in the university. It is an opportunity to value and honor other’s successes while providing unparalleled growth of the individuals involved. We currently emphasize and advocate for the continued provisions of a broad based and comprehensive program of athletic opportunities to all students who seek excellence in their chosen passions whether on the varsity level team, club sports or life-long physical education pursuits. We are well on our way, as you will read in the ensuing pages. We are proud of our Spartans!
FALL SPORTS

Men’s & Women’s Cross Country

The CWRU men’s cross country team recorded its highest national finish in the last 15 years, placing 21st at the NCAA Championships. The team was led by sophomore Trey Razanauskas, junior David Hall and senior Zach Roshon, who each earned all-region honors during the campaign. The women’s cross country team recorded an eighth-place finish at the NCAA Regionals, led by junior Madeleine Lindemann, who finished 10th at the meet to earn all-region honors, and became the first Spartan woman since 2015 to qualify for the NCAA Cross Country Championships.

Football

The Case Western Reserve University football team finished the season with an 8-2 overall record, finishing second in the Presidents’ Athletic Conference. The team was ranked as high as 18th nationally during the season, following a 4-0 start to the campaign. The Spartans were led by All-American defensive end Cameron Brown, who finished second in Division III in sacks. Freshman quarterback Drew Saxton became the first player in conference history to be named both the UAA Offensive Player and Rookie of the Year, as 13 Spartans received All-PAC honors, and 22 were selected to the All-UAA Team.

Men’s Basketball

The men’s basketball team finished its season with nine wins. Highlights from the year include winning the Bill Sudeck Tournament, and conference victories over New York University and Chicago. The Spartans were led by junior Michael Hollis, who was named to the All-UAA Second Team at the end of the campaign.

Volleyball

Volleyball finished its season with an 18-14 overall record, notching 10 wins via sweeps. It was the fifth-consecutive winning season for the Spartans. Junior Karley King was named to the All-UAA First Team, and was selected to the Google Cloud Academic All-America second team following the year, while sophomore Katie Kaminski was named an honorable mention to the All-UAA team.

Men’s & Women’s Indoor Track & Field

The indoor track and field team sent three individuals to the NCAA DIII Championship, including senior Cassandra Laios, who claimed All-America honors with a fourth-place finish in the weight throw. Sophomore Trey Razanauskas added a 15th-place finish in the 5,000-meter run, while Dominic Oddo placed 18th in the heptathlon. Both the CWRU men and women placed fifth at the UAA Indoor Championships, and Laios was named the UAA Most Outstanding Performer in Field Events. Eleven different Spartans received USTFCCCA All-Region Honors for the indoor season.

Women’s Soccer

The women’s soccer team collected seven wins during the 2018 season, and notched a .700 winning percentage in out of conference games during the year. Three Spartans earned All-UAA Honors during the year, with sophomore Bailey George and freshman Christina Hickson claiming spots on the second team, while Kimberly Chen was named an honorable mention. The three were also named to the All-Ohio third team following the season.

Men’s Soccer

The men’s soccer team had a historic season, reaching the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division III Championship, the best national finish in program history. After going 16-4-2 and finishing second in the UAA with a 4-2-1 conference record, the team finished the year ranked seventh in Division III, the Spartans’ highest national-ranking in a final poll ever. Junior Zachary Senft was named an All-American following the season, and joined sophomore Nathan Ekberg and senior Alex Besl as all-region selections.

Women’s Basketball

The Case Western Reserve women’s basketball team had one of the biggest turnarounds in all of Division III last year, with an 11-victory improvement from last season. The Spartans finished with an overall record of 15-10 and placed fourth in the UAA in 2018-19. The team was led by senior Hillary Hellmann and graduate student Kara Hageman, who each earned All-UAA First Team honors, marking the first time that two Spartans have received a spot on the conference’s top team since 2009-10.

Women’s Volleyball

The women’s volleyball team finished its season with nine wins. Highlights from the year include winning the Bill Sudeck Tournament, and conference victories over New York University and Chicago. The Spartans were led by junior Michael Hollis, who was named to the All-UAA Second Team at the end of the campaign.

Women’s Indoor Track & Field

The indoor track and field team sent three individuals to the NCAA DIII Championship, including senior Cassandra Laios, who claimed All-America honors with a fourth-place finish in the weight throw. Sophomore Trey Razanauskas added a 15th-place finish in the 5,000-meter run, while Dominic Oddo placed 18th in the heptathlon. Both the CWRU men and women placed fifth at the UAA Indoor Championships, and Laios was named the UAA Most Outstanding Performer in Field Events. Eleven different Spartans received USTFCCCA All-Region Honors for the indoor season.
Men’s & Women’s Swimming & Diving

The women’s swimming and diving team sent four swimmers to the NCAA Division III Championships this season, with senior Suhan Mestha returning to Cleveland with an All-America honorable mention in the 50-yard freestyle, after placing 14th overall in the event. Mestha was joined at the NCAAs by senior Renee Decker, sophomore Caitlyn VonFeldt and freshman Daniella Rupert. The CWRU men and women also swept the 2018 Wooster Invitational in December, as the men claimed the meet title for the ninth-straight season, while the women won it for the fourth-straight year.

Wrestling

The wrestling team earned an upset of 17th-ranked NYU, en route to finishing second at the UAA Championships. Senior Rocco Maue of the wrestling team featured a lineup that included a 149-pound weight class, and freshman Adam Kates was selected as the UAA Rookie of the Year. At the NCAA Central Regional Championship, juniors Isaac Collier and Alec Hoover and senior Gavin Dersh-Fisher each placed in their weight classes. The Spartans finished the year ranked 11th in Division III in Team GPA, led by Collier and Alec Hoover, who were named NWCA Scholar All-Americans.

Softball

The Case Western Reserve University softball team recorded its eighth-consecutive winning season in 2019, finishing the campaign with an overall record of 25-13. Case Western Reserve was paced during the year by senior shortstop Nicole Doyle, junior first baseman Nicole Carty, sophomore outfielder Aria Cleaveland and freshman designated player Liv Thomas. Carty, Cleaveland and Thomas each were selected to the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Division III All-Region Softball Second Team, while Doyle earned third team honors. In addition, Doyle, Carty and Cleaveland were named to the All-University Athletic Association Softball First Team, while Thomas and junior pitcher/outfielder Ilissa Hamilton were selected to the All-UAA Second Team.

Baseball claimed its fifth NCAA Championship bid in the program’s history in 2019, after finishing the regular season with a 22-13 overall record. The Spartans were unable to advance out of the regional championships and ended the campaign with a 24-15 record. Four members of the team, seniors Jacob Kucia and Rocco Maue, sophomore Jake Ryan and freshman Nick Denove, were each named to the American Baseball Coaches Association/ Rawlings All-Mideast Region Team. Kucia, Ryan, Denove and junior Scott Kutschke each received All-Mideast honors from D3baseball.com. Additionally, Maue was named to the Google Cloud Academic All-America Division III Baseball First Team for the second-consecutive season. He became one of just six repeat Google Cloud Academic All-America honorees on this year’s team, one of just two repeat first team honorees from 2018.

Women’s Tennis

Sophomore Madeleine Paolucci became the first All-American singles player in the history of the women’s tennis program, after picking up a first round win at the NCAA Division III Singles Championships. She finished the year with a 19-8 singles record and ended the season ranked 18th among all NCAA Division III singles players and fourth among players in the Central Region. The Spartans went 1-2 at the UAA Championships to earn a seventh-place finish in the conference. Paolucci was also named to the All-University Athletic Association First Team for her play at no. 1 singles, while the duo of Paolucci and sophomore Nicole Cardwell earned All-UAA Second Team recognition at no. 1 doubles. Also claiming All-UAA Honorable Mention honors was sophomore Mira Amin for her play at third singles.

Men’s Tennis

The CWRU men’s tennis team completed the 2018-19 season with a 21-9 overall record, and were ranked 12th in the final Oracle/ ITA Division III Rankings. The Spartans, who were also ranked fifth in the final ITA Central Region poll, featured a lineup that included sophomore Matthew Chen, who was ranked 30th nationally and fourth in the region in singles play, while collecting 14 wins in 11 matches during the season. He also teamed with junior Zach Hennessey to form the region’s 14th-ranked doubles team, with the duo going 22-6 overall and 14-5 in no. 2 doubles matches. Freshman Aaron Umen finished second on the team in singles wins during year, going 18-10 overall, and was ranked 25th in the final regional poll. Also in the Central Regional rankings, the Spartans’ duo of junior Anthony Kanam and sophomore Jonathan Powell were ranked 10th after going 18-13 overall in doubles play.

SPRING SPORTS

Outdoor Track & Field

The outdoor track and field team sent three individuals to the NCAA DIII Championship, including senior Cassandra Laios, who won the hammer throw championship and claimed an All-America honor in discus with a seventh-place finish. Sophomore Troy Razanauskas added a ninth-place finish in the 5,000-meter run, while junior Dominic Oddo placed 14th in the decathlon. The CWRU men placed third at the UAA Outdoor Championships and the women placed fourth, while Laios was named the UAA Most Outstanding Performer in Field Events. Eight different Spartans received USTFCCA All-Region Honors for the outdoor season.

Case Western Reserve University
Department of Physical Education & Athletics Annual Report
NCAA Student-Athlete Leadership Forum
Case Western Reserve University senior Isa Torres-Padin of the women’s cross country and track & field teams, junior Andrew Hoover of the wrestling team, and Head Wrestling Coach Danny Song have each been selected to participate in the 2019 NCAA Student-Athlete Leadership Forum in Orlando, Florida from April 11 – 14.

The NCAA Student-Athlete Leadership Forum engages a diverse and dynamic representation of student-athletes, coaches, faculty and administrators. Student-athletes selected to attend the forum return to campus with invaluable leadership skills, the experience of exploring the relationship between personal values, core beliefs and behavioral styles, and a thorough understanding of the NCAA as a whole, the different divisional perspectives and the valuable role of Student-Athlete Advisory Committees (SAAC).

The Program
Mission:
To develop the complete scholar athlete leader of the highest caliber to represent CWRU. Connect with fellow leaders across sports in order to learn new skills, promote growth mentality and idea sharing.

Objectives:
- Engage like-minded individuals to share perspective

- Acquire the skills, catalyze growth and encourage your peers!

Case Association of Student-Athletes (CASA)
The purpose of the Case Association of Student-Athletes (CASA) is to enhance the experience of student-athletes who are members of intercollegiate athletic programs at Case Western Reserve University.

Mission Statement:
The mission of the Case Association of Student-Athletes (CASA) is to provide student-athletes with a means of improving visibility within the campus community through community service, communication between student-athletes and the administration, and increased community involvement. CASA will also provide insight and feedback on Department of Athletics issues, and NCAA matters and legislation.

Initiatives/Programs:
- First-year Student-Athlete welcome night
- Student-Athlete welcome Fall barbeque
- Student-Athlete formal
- Student-Athlete awards night
- Senior Student-Athlete reception
- Graduation cords
- Bringing in outside speakers on a variety of topics
- Assistance in creation of Sustained Dialogue program
- Scholar-Athlete Recognition

Van Horn Society
New initiative created to recognize the top tier Academic Student-Athletes at CWRU. The Van Horn Society honors all Juniors and Seniors who have achieved a 3.8 cumulative GPA or higher.

The Van Horn Society was named after Dr. Frank Van Horn, a geology professor at Case Institute of Technology in 1900 when he was chosen to improve a poor sports program, which consisted of football and basketball. He had no experience in athletics and was given virtually no budget, but somehow he raised $3,000 and hired his first football coach, Joe Wentworth. What followed were six of the greatest seasons in CIT history with four Ohio championships. Amongst the defeated were Ohio State, Purdue and Western Reserve.

In the 1920s, Van Horn built a football stadium with the finest grandstand in the Midwest, and the field was later named in his honor. He personally raised $35,000 to buy an old church near the campus and converted it into a gymnasium complete with pool and clubhouse. It enabled Case to begin varsity programs for basketball, swimming and wrestling.
Each year, athletic teams from CWRU take time out of their busy schedules to volunteer in various projects around the campus community, the greater Cleveland area, and even around the world. Below is a list of some of the community service projects undertaken by CWRU athletic teams:

Women’s Tennis
- Volunteered with Special Olympics at the Veale Center.

Women’s Basketball
- Participated in the Cleveland ‘Buddy Walk,” a walk to celebrate individuals with Down syndrome.
- Volunteered with “Young Athletes” basketball clinic. A program for kids with disabilities who are too young for Special Olympics.
- Volunteered with Special Olympics at the Veale Center.

Men’s Tennis
- Hosted a Special Olympics Clinic during the ITA Indoor Championships.
- Hosted a clinic for ‘Advantage Cleveland’, a non-profit organization that offers tennis and education to the inner city all year round.

Men’s Basketball
- Tutored at Bethune School every Friday through the school year.
- Visited the After School All-Stars.
- Worked with the Citizens Leadership Academy.

2018-19 HIGHLIGHTS

- CWRU continued its successful agreement with the InterContinental Hotel Group. IHG has been the long-standing sponsor of the Bill Sudeck Men’s Basketball Tournament.

- The Courtyard Marriott University Circle continued as the title sponsor of the basketball teams’ Throwback Weekend. Rascal House became the sponsor of the post-game ‘Rascal House Player of the Game.’

- The 2019 Intercollegiate Tennis Association Men’s Championships, hosted for a third time by CWRU, was a huge success. The event was made possible through generous sponsors including David Dickenson, our title sponsor.

- The Spartan Open Golf Outing was held again at StoneWater Golf Club in Highland Heights. The 2019 event saw an increase in participation of ten percent from the previous year. The proceeds from the event have been earmarked for our partnership with T3 performance. T3 Performance will provide year round strength and conditioning for CWRU student-athletes.
Case Western Reserve University, in conjunction with the Spartan Club, inducted seven new members into the Hall of Fame on October 13th, 2018. The seven 2018 Hall of Fame inductees were first recognized at halftime of the Homecoming football game, a 37-7 win for the Spartans. The ceremony then shifted to the Kelvin & Eleanor Smith Grand Ballroom in the Tinkham Veale University Center for the official induction. The following seven were inducted into the Spartan Club Hall of Fame:

HALL OF FAME CLASS OF 2018

- JOHN DAVIN

The 2019 Spartan Club Hall of Fame class, which includes Kevin Bigart (Men's Soccer, CWRU '08), Elaine Hillenmyer (Women’s Swimming & Diving, CWRU ’05), Angela Zeuch (Women’s Basketball, CWRU ’04), Melissa Scopilliti (Softball, CWRU ’02), heritage selection Tom Spear (Men's Swimming & Diving, CIT ’64), and special category inductee Nobby Lewandowski (CWRU - MBA ’64) will be inducted on Saturday, October 12. Also scheduled to be recognized at the event with the University Award for Athletic Excellence are the 2001 CWRU Softball Team and the 2002 CWRU Women’s Basketball Team. More information on the event will be made available at athletics.case.edu.
Donations to the CWRU Department of Physical Education & Athletics have a great impact, empowering the department to provide a vital health and wellness dimension for our campus and greater communities, along with the fun, camaraderie, and competition so important to college life. Encompassing varsity athletics, club sports, intramurals, and the physical education curriculum, along with recreation/health and wellness activities, CWRU Athletics serves students, faculty, staff, alumni, and the community.

University funding supports the core operations of the Athletic Department, while donations from alumni, friends, and family allow it to grow and excel. External donations supplement CWRU budgetary allocations, making it possible for the department to augment facilities, enhance programs, and take advantage of opportunities. The 2018-2019 fiscal year saw 2,219 donations to the CWRU Athletics Department totaling $681,536, with gifts to capital campaigns, special projects, and endowments, along with expendable annual fund donations that advance programs to the next level.

The list below includes donations made to the CWRU Athletics Department during the past fiscal year (July 1, 2018 to June 30, 2019) of cash, securities, retirement plans, matching gifts, and bequests. The list includes gifts to capital initiatives, special projects, endowment funds, specific varsity sports, individual club sports, intramurals, physical education classes, and membership dues to the Spartan Club. Major gift support included, but was not limited to: the Wyant Athletic and Wellness Center, North Campus Fieldhouse, upgrades to Nobby’s Ballpark and Mather Park, hosting of NCAA championships, new locker rooms for football and men’s and women’s soccer, crew club endowment, Tennis House renovation, and special trips by certain sports.

We thank you for investing in CWRU Athletics. If there are questions concerning CWRU Athletics support, or if you wish to inquire about making a donation, commit to a planned gift, or discuss one of many exciting naming opportunities within the department, please feel free to contact me at gary.pillar@case.edu or 216-368-3992.
