Kannerstein Field hosted its official dedication ceremony on Saturday April 21, 2012. The baseball facility is named in honor of Haverford's beloved former athletic director and head baseball coach, Greg Kannerstein ’63, who passed away in 2009. The major renovation project provides the team with one of the very best D-III baseball facilities in the country. The renovations include an entirely new playing surface, new irrigation system, new drainage system, new fences, new backstop, new bullpen mounds, new scoreboard, additional seating and a new roofed and turfed hitting facility.

Dave Beccaria
Head Baseball Coach

Dave Beccaria, entering his 19th year as head coach, has led the Haverford College baseball program to new heights.

Beccaria has established a tradition of winning during his tenure, compiling a 388-286-4 record, the most wins by a manager in program history. The Fords have won the Centennial Conference Championship and competed in the NCAA D-III Mid-Atlantic Regional three times under Beccaria. Haverford has appeared in the conference playoffs in 12 of the last 14 years, including seven championship games, and has been nationally ranked as one of the top D-III baseball programs.

Two players, Charlie Carluccio ’11 and Tommy Bergjans ’15, have earned All-America accolades under Beccaria’s guidance. Bergjans was the first NCAA D-III player picked in the 2015 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft as he was selected in the eighth round by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Stephen Ridings ’17 became Beccaria’s most recent draft pick when he was selected in the eighth round of the 2016 draft. Also under Beccaria’s watch, Dean Laganosky ’09 was drafted by the Cleveland Indians, while non-drafted free agent Jake Chaplin ’12 signed a contract in the summer of 2012 to join the L.A. Dodgers’ Rookie Arizona League affiliate.

Beccaria is a 1996 graduate of Johns Hopkins University, where he was a third baseman and captain for the Blue Jays. In 1997, he served as Hopkins’ junior varsity head coach and varsity assistant coach while earning his master’s degree in liberal arts. Beccaria joined Haverford’s coaching staff as hitting instructor and recruiting coordinator in 1998 and was promoted to head baseball coach in July 2000.

In the summer of 1994, Beccaria was head coach of the Aarau Hawks of the Swiss National League. He also has served as director of baseball operations and hitting instructor at SportsChallenge, a two-week sports/leadership camp designed for aspiring collegiate student-athletes.

A member of the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) and the ABCA coordinator for the Mid-Atlantic Region rankings, Beccaria lives in Springfield, Pa. with his wife, Susie, and daughters Avery and Elise.

Beccaria’s assistant coaches include Kevin Morgan, who has been coaching at Haverford for more than two decades, along with Haverford alumni and former players Dan Crawley ’06, Nat Ballenberg ’07, and William Bernard ’14. John Blankstein joined Beccaria’s staff as an assistant in 2017.

“Being a student at Haverford makes you feel like a part of a tight-knit community, and being a player on the baseball team makes you feel like a part of a family within that community.”

—Jeremy Zoll ’12

“Much of our success stems from the chemistry that we develop on and off the field. We truly become brothers who play a selfless, hard-nosed brand of baseball and who want to win for our teammates more than ourselves.”

—Jonny Williams’12
