AMC Statement of Athletics Philosophy

The Anna Maria College community subscribes to the NCAA Division III philosophy and places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience on the successful completion of all students' academic programs and on maintaining balance with their overall athletic experience. AMC views athletics as a core institutional program linked to the College’s mission to educate for personal, professional and global responsibility. Anna Maria seeks to provide its student-athletes with the opportunity, consistent with NCAA Division III values, to grow through academic achievement, to learn through athletic competition and to develop a strong character both on and off the field.

At Anna Maria College, coaches and staff work with student-athletes to help them become successful in academics, responsible campus citizens and athletes who strive to excel at the highest level of Division III athletic competition.

To help its student-athletes meet these expectations, the College accepts its responsibility to provide them with high quality athletic administration, coaching, facilities, and academic and student life support. All of this is done within the spirit of the College’s mission and in keeping with the traditions of the Sisters of Saint Anne to provide access to higher education for students of diverse backgrounds and economic means.
