NE10 MEN’S GOLFERS OF THE WEEK

Stephen Hunt, Saint Anselm
(Junior, Wilbraham, Mass.)

Led by the tournament’s top golfer, Hunt, Saint Anselm claimed first place at the Bowdoin Invitational. Hunt, a second-place finisher at the Invitational last year, captured first by shooting even par (72) across both rounds to finish with 144 total strokes.

Sam Riemer, Southern New Hampshire
(Junior, Canton, Mass.)

Riemer fired back-to-back rounds of even-par 72 to claim medalist honors with a two-round total of 144, leading SNHU to its first tournament title of the season at the Franklin Pierce Fall Invitational. Riemer, who won by three strokes, did so on the strength of his field-high nine birdies.

NE10 WOMEN’S GOLFER OF THE WEEK

Krystal Knight, Merrimack
(Junior, Groveland, Mass.)

For the second straight week, Knight won the individual title as she was the medalist at the Corbett Fall Classic. She continued her torrid start to her season after tying her single-round career low with a 71 on Monday, trimming six strokes off her Sunday score of 77. Knight finished with a four-over-par 148 score for the tournament.

NE10 MEN’S ROOKIE OF THE WEEK

Dylan Plis, Franklin Pierce
(Freshman, Camillus, N.Y.)

Plis helped lead Franklin Pierce to a 2nd-place finish at the FPU Fall Invitational. He tied for fourth place at 149 (+5) and he dropped three strokes from his day one score as he shot a 73 (+1) on Monday.

NE10 WOMEN’S ROOKIE OF THE WEEK

Micayla Moldenke, Le Moyne
(Freshman, Toledo, Ohio)

Moldenke posted a 90.5 average over four rounds last week. She posted a 191 to tie for 50th at the Evann Parker Memorial Invitational. She followed with a 171 to tie for 54th among 120 competitors at the Michael Corbett Fall Classic.

AROUND THE NE10

The 2017 NE10 Men’s and Women’s Golf Championships will take place this fall. The women’s will be on September 24-25 in Haverhill, Mass., while the men’s will be the following weekend in New London, N.H. Merrimack will serve as the host for the women’s, while Southern New Hampshire will be the host institution for the men’s.

With all five players shooting 151 or better, Bentley opened by finishing second in the Ryan T. Lee Memorial Invitational. The Falcons, who had a total of 30 birdies, were the only Division II team in the tournament, which also included 12 Division I’s and one Canadian institution.
Robert Falconer, Bentley (So., Mechanicsburg, Pa.)
During the Ryan T. Lee Memorial, Falconer had his best two rounds as a collegian, tying for ninth overall with a 72-74-146. He had four birdies during each round, including two during the final three holes of day two as Bentley edged Bryant and St. Peter’s to finish second.

Doug Kulikowski, Bentley (Jr., Pittsford, N.Y.)
Kulikowski tied for fourth in the Ryan T. Lee Memorial, finishing with a one-over 145 (72-73) while helping Bentley finish second in the predominantly Division I tournament. He had five birdies, including two during the final three holes as Bentley edged Bryant and St. Peter’s in the battle for second.

Keeton Foster, Franklin Pierce (So., Spofford, N.H.)
Foster was a key factor to the Ravens placing second at the FPU Fall Invitational this past Sunday and Monday. He placed second as he golfed a 147 (+3), which was just three spots behind the leader. He led all players in par-4 scoring at 4.05 (+1), ranked third out of the entire field in total pars (23), and took off five strokes from his first 18 score to golf a second round 71 (-1).

Camden Morrison, Franklin Pierce (Sr., Millis, Mass.)
Morrison was one of two Ravens who carded within the top-5. The senior captain knocked one stroke off her day one score to finish at 149 (+5) which was good enough for second place.
